I understand that I am a participant in this field trip/event. I release the Kentucky Society of Natural History and/or its officers from all liability for accident, injury, illness, or loss of property for myself and/or my dependent(s) and agree to indemnify and save harmless the sponsors from accident, illness, or injury to others or loss of their property caused partly or wholly by me and/or my dependent(s) while engaged in any voluntary activity supported by the sponsors.

Please note: In Kentucky and most other states an individual may accept a particular risk of harm resulting from another party's conduct. An express release by which one party agrees to assume the risk of harm arising from another party's negligent conduct will be enforced by the courts so long as it does not release liability for willful or gross negligence and does not otherwise offend public policy. By signing this release, you are not only agreeing that you will not sue the Kentucky Society of Natural History or its officers should one or more of its members or officers cause you harm; you are also protected from being held liable as long as your conduct is not grossly negligent or intentional.
